

Scranton Attendance Center's Partners In Education

November 2015 Update

A busy October kicked-off with Homecoming. The SFTHS Cheer Team stopped in during morning assembly and taught students a cheer that was performed at the pep rally, "Rock With the Red and Roll With the Blue." The third and fourth graders chimed right in supporting the Cheer Team during the Rally.

On October 8th, students and staff were so fortunate to have Mr. Adam Burnett and helpers from Resource Center for Independent Living, based out of Osage City, visit SAC. Throughout that afternoon, students learned that people with disabilities are really no different than they are. Those with disabilities have friends, hopes and dreams, etc. they just have to go about everyday life a bit differently. Students got to tour a couple of different handicap accessible vans, learned about and experienced what it is like to use a wheel chair, practiced sign language and played a game with a beep ball. The students watched a short video and had the opportunity to ask Mr. Burnett some questions. It was a very educational and reward day for all of us. If your student has not already shared with you about the event, please ask them to do so.

Thank you for supporting the SAC Book Fair. Mrs. Terry said it was one of the most successful events in recent years. Encouraging your student to read is so important. Students who are proficient readers have a greater opportunity of being successful in all areas of their education. Reading literally is the key that opens so many doors for students.

The third and fourth grade students who met the Fuel-Up to Play 60 first quarter goal were recognized during an afternoon assembly which featured SFTHS football head coach Jason Duncan and several senior players. Both Coach Duncan and the players shared with students the importance of staying healthy and physically fit as well as what they have done to help them be successful football players.

In an effort to provide a helping hand to several families within the school community during the upcoming holiday season, SAC will be collecting nonperishable food items. Donations will be accepted through November 20th. If cash donations are made, they will be used to purchase turkeys and other perishable items. Anything you might be able to contribute is greatly appreciated.

Students displaying attributes of the Charger Code of Conduct are recognized with Positive Office Referrals. During the first quarter, 106 referrals were made. It is such a pleasure to recognize those who are not only working hard academically, but striving to be good student citizens. Academics are very important, but the ability to cooperate, be respectful, and motivated are very important outside of school as well.

Thank you for attending parent-teacher conferences. If you have questions or concerns regarding your student's education, please be sure to contact their teacher. We want to help your child be as successful as possible. Communication plays an important part in making this happen.
