1	Neither agree nor disagree, actually. They could be helpful.	4/24/2017 10:32 AM
2	Absolutely!	4/17/2017 4:41 AM
3	I do not believe these are accurate tools. They may help students get ideas for possible skills, but students at the JH age do not have enough of an idea of who they are as a person to answer interest surveys well	4/17/2017 2:50 AM

1	I appreciate the opportunity to have this type of conference. There are often questions that the students don't know the answers to that can be discussed at this time. Input from the staff member regarding scheduling and activity can also be valuable.	4/24/2017 12:24 PM
2	as I said below, I am not sure if this is indicating there was a separate meeting, than the planning meeting for next years classes. if not, we barely touched on what my student wants to do as a career. and if this is the meeting - the teacher who did meet with us, did not seem knowledgable about opportunities outside of SFT.	4/19/2017 1:52 PM
3	Thanks for all you do for our kids.	4/17/2017 2:50 PM
4	Our conference was very helpful! We were unaware that Killian was lacking something that he really needed!	4/17/2017 12:26 PM
5	This conference was very much appreciated!!! The time the counselor took to stay late and discuss our child's future was very much appreciated as well and we are lucky that SFT has a genuine interest in their students' successes!!! Thank you for the invaluable information, we hope it continues and that parents and students take advantage of this wonderful opportunity!!!!	4/17/2017 10:53 AM
6	I am very happy that SFT provide this service to 8th through 11th grade. It not only makes the students aware of where they are but it makes the parents accountable also.	4/17/2017 10:39 AM
7	The information in the booklet didn't need to be told to us - we can read it ourselves.	4/17/2017 10:23 AM
8	The conference was well covered and student co-teacher taught. Our daughter's next four years are planned out and only wish the years would slow down for us to enjoy more. Thanks to SFTH and the staff for making our daughter's freshman year great. I only wish the conferences were this organized when I was there 30 years ago.	4/17/2017 10:11 AM
